

Wedding Illustration Services

How can you make your wedding day extra special for your loved ones and those who come to celebrate you on the most important day of your life?

Stephanie Fowler is a fashion illustrator with over ten years of experience rendering the human figure in a stylish and playful manner.

She will capture your guests with a quick photo and leave them to enjoy the evening while she creates stunning wedding favours for your friends and family to take home with them to remember your wedding day.

The set up:

- You provide a table for me to set up with room to spread out finished illustrations. I may require a spot to grab clean water, and come with my own light to paint by - although a spot with good lighting is always appreciated.

I provide:

- All paper and paint for sketching guests, as well as envelopes for them to take home their illustration.

The specifics:

- Guests are sketched on a first come, first serve basis
- the client is responsible for any additional embossing of wedding paper for favours. If you require embossing, we can meet several weeks prior to your day to arrange the hand off of paper.
- Artist and client agree beforehand on guests who cannot be served - they may be finished at later date for a reduced rate.
